EDITOR'S NOTEBOOK

Dear Archie Readers,

Have you had your fill of winter? Those of you who live in Florida, Louisiana, California and other places that don't see much snow, need not answer that question. Snow can be fun, but enough is enough. Here at Archie comics it's on to SPRING. Our goal is to drag you out of the winter blahs and get you thinking about spring things, like spring vacations....like ARCHIE'S SPRING VACATION SPECIAL #3. In this issue, Veronica takes a trip to Japan, which isn't a bad way to spend a school vacation. But our brunette bombshell panics when she realizes she's left her precious Archie-poo in the clutches of Betty and Cheryl. Will Archie finally be "unwrapped" from around Veronica's little finger?...or will Veronica manage to come home early and surprise our red-headed Romeo? I can't give away the store, but prepare yourselves for a big finish when you read "Tokyo Trauma." On sale next month.

Now for all you comic collectors out there, another milestone will be reached when ARCHIE'S DOUBLE DIGEST #100 goes on sale in April. This special issue features a story called "The Night of 100 Archies." Make sure you're sitting down when you read this story, 'cause you'll be falling on the floor laughing if you're not. See what happens when Mr. Lodge's worst nightmare comes true, after Archie stumbles into a "cloning" machine. Just how many Archies can Mr. Lodge throw out of his mansion? The answer to this, but no other earth-shattering questions, will be answered, so don't miss it.

What would surprise you more...Betty, or Riverdale High's principal, Mr. Weatherbee with a nose ring? Try not to get "your" nose out of joint until you read, "That Certain Ring," coming at you in BETTY #62. It's a story that will bring tears to your eyes (from laughing, of course) and a sigh of relief to your parents (after all, they NEVER did anything crazy when they were kids!).

Battle Ground, WA
The Olympics

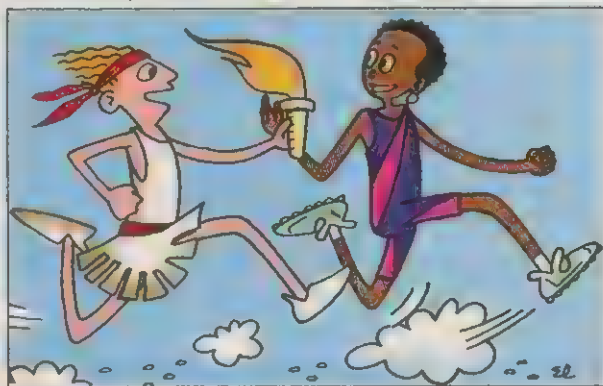

The Olympics first started in Greece. The people of Greece would hold their Olympics in a big building called Olympia, where they would honor one of their gods, Zeus. They would gather to watch brave men fight with animals and other men. Olympia was built with sand in the center (where the men and animals fought) to, ew, soak up the blood that was shed from the fighters. The way the animals would get into the ring was from small trap doors at the bottom of the ring where lions would come out. That way, it looked like they would "appear" from nowhere. The animals were stored below the ring in cages leading up into the ring. The Olympics back then consisted of different sports such as discus throwing or dis-

Mary Cassatt

Mary Cassatt was a great American artist born in 1845. She is famous for her paintings of families and children. One time, Mary and her family went to France for a little while. A few years after returning, Mary decided she wanted to be an artist. But in the 1880's, people thought that it was inappropriate for women to be artists and that they should only have "polite" hobbies. Finally realizing how much she wanted to go, her father sent her to art school.
